in support of the claims of the contestant.

Fending Mr. Ranney's speech, Mr. Finley was redegited to offer a resolution directing the Committee on Naval Affairs to inquire into the practicability and expediency of constructing from or steel occan stamers for commercial purposes upon such models and of such a rength as that they may be readily converted into efficient ships of war when necessary; also as to the proficability of so constructing such ships as to permit of the speedy attachment of deflecting armor; also as to the expediency of granting government aid in the construction of such vessels to the extent of giving fair and just compensation for carrying the mails an condition that the ships shall be wholly owned by American citizens. Referred.

Mr. Belishover spoke for two hours in advocacy of the claims of the sitting member, and ease is concluded, and had brought a civil suif for $10,000 against the New York Heradt in New Jersey.

The only witness that was called by the defense was Mr. Chambers. He testified that on the 21st of April hat he received a note from his employers in New York inclusing a letter that Montrup had written to Perry Belmont, of New York, with reference to disclosure he desired to make as to the Peruvian claim investigation, accompanied by a note from the Washington correspondent of the New York Herald to the proprietor of the Herald. These letters were enclosed in one envelope with histractions as to Maurop's statement. In pursuance thereof the defendant went to prison, saw Maurrop there, and then the interview took place. He did not take down word for word what Mantrop said, but took memoranda of names, sums, &c., and them came be k and wrote up the article. The defense then offered to show by the winness that when he sent the article on, his purpose in doing so, and his expectation was that it would be sent to the investigation at Washington, and that It was not for publication. The offer was overviled, and an exception taken. After argument Judge Biddle charged the jury, who, after a short deliberation, returned a verdict of guilty, with a recommendation to mercy. The defendant was thereupon fined $1,000, which sum was immediately paid.

The one exception is the Union iron mills of Carnegie Bros. & Co., who signed last night. They will continue to run, having contracts on hand that must be filed. This is generally considered a had break, and is calculated to weaken the lines of the manufacturem. It is one of the largest from mills here, and has a capacity of 25,000 tons a year. The steel mills are running as usual. Most of them have signed the scale, but as they do not employ many puddiers, it is not thought their running will have any effect on the straidion. It is expected that most of the sheet from mills will sign within a few days. It is generally believed that the strike wil be of long duration. UPHOLD THE PRESENT KHEDIVE.

It was feared that intervention by Europe instead of by Turkey would ladiame fanaticism. There was no reason to consider the life of the Khedive or the lives of Europeans in dameer. The runner that ladian troops were about to be brought to Expt was without foundation. Sir Charles Dilke stated that there were French and English guilboais at either end of the Succ Canal. The question as to the presidency of the conference was not yet decided. Turkey had been invited to participate. The government received a communication from M. De Fryningt to day, testifying to the complete concerd of views between France and England.

ARABI BEY'S THEASON.

ARABI DEV'S THEASON.

Mr. Gladstone said in his remarks that a telegram had just been received which announced that Arabi Pasha had completely thrown off the mask, and would probably set on the pretoided deposition of Tewfik Pasha and proclaim Hallin Pasha Khedive. Mr. Gladstone stated that the government comidered themselves be und to support the present Khedive, because he had, as far as they could judge, behaved with perfect honor and good faith.

Mr. Ashmead Bartlett asked if the decision of the conference to be held at Constantinople would be enforced by arms. Sir Charles Dilke replied that that was the very question on which the con-ference was called together.

IN THE HOUSE OF LORDS

this afternoon Lord tranville, Foreign Secretary saised that three English was vessels have arrived at Alexandris and that three more will arrive there either to-night or to-morrow, A similar French contingent will arrive nearly similataneously. He said he had no four whatever as to the maintenance of telegraphic communication with Egypt. The Marquis of Saisbury said he had received information that 000 soldiers were employed in creding earthworks around Alexandria and that the British government would not permit the fleet to interfere. Lord Salisbury remarked that if they allowed the works to be continued grave consequences might result. He hoped the conference at Constantinoble would be a short one. Lord Granville replied that the government were fully aware of all the circumstances and must be left to judge how best to fulfill their duty.

PRANCE AND EUVPT.

Parts, June L.—In the Chamber of Deputies today M. De Freyelinet, replying to interpellations relative to Egypt, defended the resurt to European concert. Any other course he declared must lead to adventures. The idea of French military intervention in Egypt had no place whatever in the government's plans.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June I.—The mill men at Rayview, near Milwaukee, see out. A meeting of the men beld last night was attended by the members of the unious in a body, and specules and enthusiastic appeals was the general order. This morning the Merchant, Ear, and fish-plate mills were stopped, and the rail mill is now the only one running. Bloody Work of Strikers. CHICAGO, ILL., June 1.—The Joliet Iron and Sicel Works had a gang of about twenty non-union their docks here to-day. At the close of work this evening the men got on board a Chicago and Alion train to go to Johet. When the train stopped at the Panhandle creating, five or six miles out, it was surrounded by about fifty striking from workers and their friends mostly young follows, four or five of whom jumped on the engine and, presenting revolvers, prevented the engineer from starting again. In the meantine another detaciment entered the train and pulled out all the workness they could recognize, including a half dozen colored men and one white man. The remainder of the crowd outside took them and beat them, klested and stamped upon them, injuring them severely. Many stones were thrown in the melece and twenty-five or thirty shots were fired. One shot took effect in the groin of Judge Pillabury, of the Illinois appellate court, inflicting a second which, it is teared, will prove fatal. The rioters, after beating the negroes to their hearties entent, disposed, emptying the chambers of the revolvers. No arrests were made, Judge Pillabury was brought back to the city. The wounded workness were taken back to Joilet. to adventures. The idea of French military intervention in Egypt had no place whatever in the government's plans.

M. GAMBIETTA ASKED

what course the government would take if its proposals were disrigarded by the conference. M. De Freychet rep led that if anybody thought France ought to undertake a military expedition, the Chamber must judge between such a policy and timt of the government. M. Gambetta declared that he could not hear without a protest that France would never intervene. M. De Freychet explained that he mean that France would never intervene. M. De Freychet explained that he mean that France would never agree to cut the Egyptian question by her own isolated action. In entering the European concert, France had accepted the duties which the decisions of Europe might entail. M. Gambetta Said the government by such prior declaration had rovealed to Europe the secret of her weakness. M. de Freychiet made an explanation of the objects of the conference initiar to that made in the British Farliament. The order of the day, pure and simple, was moved by M. Clemenceau, and was rejected by a vote of 228 to 176. An order of the day, expressing confidence in the government, was adopted by a vote of 228 to 70.

VIENNA, June 1.—Au invitation to the conference at Constantinople, to consider the Egyptian question, reached the Austrian cabinet to day.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June L.—It is stated that the Khedive has again requested the dispatch of a Turkish commissioner.

CAINO, JUNE 1.—It is believed in diplomatic circles here that the conference is called with the object of formally declaring that Turkish intervention would be in accordance with the will of Europe. Further efforts have been made to induce Arabi Facha to county with the ultimatum. It is reported that the Sultan has telegraphed to the military chiefs deprecating discordanoon the different reace professing the Moslem faith, and insisting upon the necesity of maintaining the states que. HARTFORD, COSN., June 1.—Mr. John B. El-dridge, one of the oldest and wealthlest chizens of Hartford, was found dead in his bed this morning. The cause was probably heart disease. EXCITED ESTITIAN TROOPS.

LONDON, June 2.—A Cairo dispatch says: "The troops in their barracks have held excited meetings demanding that flatin Pacha be immediately preclaimed Khedive. Arab Pacha tried to caim the soldiers, but firmly declined to meddle with the Khedive. It is contended that as long as the Khedive remains in Cairo he is held as a hostage by the rebels. Arabi Pacha's military demonstration has been postponed until Saurady. The military officers swagger about the streets in the most offensive manner."

LONDON, June 2.—A dispatch from Cairo reports that fresh earthworks have been thrown up at Gabary, and that 39i cases of carrifeges have been landed from lighters.

WHO GOT THE MONEY?

The Whisky Ring Investigation Develops Some Interesting Testimony.

The investigation of the so-called whisky ries was resumed by the Senate committee yesterday. Mr. J. M. Atherton, the Louisville distiller, who was reported as having said that he was approached by certain newspaper correspondents on the subject of the bond extension bill, and threatened with their opposition unless he employed them, was the only witness examined. He project them, was the only witness examined. Ho declared emphatically that he had never been approached, directly or indirectly, by any newspaper correspondent or any person connected with a newspaper. He had not made any such matement, and the report attributing it to him was erroneous. While in Washington some weeks ago he was APPROACHED BY CERTAIN GENTLEMEN.

who proposed to assist in presenting and pushing the bond extension bill, but he declined their effer, saying that the distillers had already employed counsel, and had no money to employ more, even if they needed more. These gentlemen, said the witness, made no threats at all.
The witness declined to give the names of the paries who spoke to him, saying there was nothing improper in the conversation, and he would not mix their names up in the matter. Senator Cockrell insisted upon having their names, but MR. ATHERTON STILL DECLINED TO MENTION THEM.
Mr. Cockrell said if there was nothing improper in the proposal of the parties, no harm could come from mentioning their names, but the witness said it would mix them up with the investigation, and might subject them to censure, and probably do them injury; that was his reason for withholding the names. He declared that neither the name of any Congressman nor any government official was mentioned in the conversation. "It was," he continued, "a plain business proposition, and it was rejected." The parties made no threats. If he thought, added the witness, that these persons had inspired the attack in the New York Hefold upon the bill, he would give their names, but he didn't believe they had anything to do with it.

TRYING TO CONVINCE THE WITNESS.

Mesers. Cockrell, Hawley, and Windom attempted to convince the witness that it was his duly to give the names; that if the proposition was a legitimate one no harm could come from publicity, and that sathe reports of an alleged attempt to blackmail the whisky men had grown out of statements made by the witness himself, it was clearly his duty to give the committee all the names and facts in order that the whole truth might be known, and any unjust suspicious or conclusions that may exist in the public mind may be cleared up. The witness persisted that it would be unjust to the gentlemen who had spoken to him to mention their names, hasmuch as there was nothing improper in their properal. He said the report of what he had said after leaving Washington was greatly exaggerated, and he was not responsible for the failer reports. He admitted having called the men who approached him
